GRAND OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

Among the brilliant scenes that the production of "The Holy City" presents, none is more sensationally superb than the one in which Salome the beautiful daughter of Herodias, dances before King Herod and his court. In diaphanous drapery, kaleidoscopic as butterfly wings in rainbow rays, its folds rising and falling around and above her nimble feet like clouds caressed by summer winds, bending and swaying in harmonious motion to the enticing music played, the royal dancer floats like a bubble on the palace terraces, bewitching their intoxicated monarch who first offers half his kingdom, but finally grants the head of John the Baptist, as a reward for sensuous delight. Exquisite as are the surroundings of this situation, its dramatic intensity is never lost; the conspiracy and its fateful ending hidden for the moment by the alluring beauty of the scene, burst upon the senses in a climax of tragic acting seldom witnessed on a stage. Pasqualina De Voe, the Italian tragedienne, specially engaged to play Salome in the east, gives to the difficult role that fire and intensity which the character demands.
"The Holy City" will be seen at the Grand Opera House tonight.

PINE GROVE ON SHORT LINE IS WIPED OUT BY FLAMES

burn all the day and was carefully watched.

There is a difference of opinion as to the origin of the fire. Some believe it was caused by gas explosions, while others stoutly maintain that it was incendiary.

There is great distress among most of the inhabitants of the ill-fated town. Most of them escaped the flames scantily dressed and were burned out of house and home. thrown penniless upon the world.
The scene Tuesday was distressing.
Many lay around the hot cinders and ashes to keep warm and bemoaned their fate. Those who escaped the fire's destruction, however, did all possible to alleviate the suffering, exposure and distress.

No definite estimate can be made as yet as to the loss, but it is believed it reaches fully a quarter of a million dollars, and years will be necessary to recover from the fire's awful visitation.
